

October Book Group News

We will be meeting to discuss our book for October, "News of the World" by Paulette Jiles. The book discussions will be facilitated by Roberta Maguire. As we have done the past few months, we will be having two discussions.

We will be meeting for a socially distant in person discussion in the garden of the Woman's Club on Wednesday October 14th at 11:30 AM. Please note the time change. We are meeting at 11:30 in order to have warmer weather and avoid the grass cutters and construction workers. For the meeting in the garden you will need to bring a lawn chair and wear a mask. Please also remember that we are collecting food and money for the Food Pantry and receptacles for those donations will be available in the garden.

The Zoom meeting discussion will be held on Thursday October 15th at the usual time of 10:30 AM. A Zoom invitation will be sent to all those participating a day or two before the Zoom meeting.

We are trying to plan for our winter meetings and cold weather. The Board has decided that we can allow 20 people to meet in the living room of the clubhouse, being socially distant and wearing masks. We thought we could try this for our December, January and February meetings if enough people were interested. In addition, we are still planning on having Zoom meetings for all our book discussions throughout the winter. We need to hear from the Book Group members as to whether or not they are comfortable attending Book Group meetings indoors. Please email us and give us your feedback about indoor meetings, so that we can make a decision.

Thank you in advance for responding.

We look forward to seeing you at one of the venues!
